

The left arm grasps the GPU and carefully aligns it to insert it into the PCIe slot. Once the left arm releases the component, the right arm moves into position to push down and lock the GPU in place.

